Developing 21st Century Boards

(Joint session with Group 1 EDs)

A guided a discussion of critical questions including balancing the pressure to recruit and retain members with financial capacity with the urgency to be more representative of our communities; developing boards that are diverse, value deep and innovative community reach and have a passion for music; managing the tension between the optimal size board for fundraising and the optimal size board for effective governance. Nancy Schlichting, recently retired CEO of Henry Ford Health System and active member of corporate and non-profit boards; John McCann, principle, Partners in Performance
