John Hagstrom

Trumpet
Chicago Symphony Orchestra

CSO trumpeter John Hagstrom presents a look back through the history of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra’s renowned brass section. He will highlight important developments and key musicians shaping the orchestra’s unity of musical impact, and explain how it has been passed on through successive generations of CSO musicians. Several historic CSO brass instruments will be displayed, and Hagstrom will perform several selections on trumpets played by former CSO trumpeters going back 100 years and more!